

CHALET BLEIBE

Chalet Bleibe offers a calm, character-rich place to unwind right in the center of Monschau's historic old town. Set in one of the town's iconic half-timbered buildings, it blends centuries of history with clean, comfortable, modern interiors. You can expect the charm that comes with an old structure—creaking floors, low ceilings in some spots, and thick walls—but also a thoughtfully updated space that feels warm and welcoming after a day of exploring.

This is a stay for travelers who appreciate atmosphere and simplicity over hotel-style amenities. You won't find spa facilities or room service, but you will find an unbeatable location: cafés, the Rur river, small shops, and the narrow cobblestone lanes of Monschau are all just steps away. The surrounding Eifel National Park offers plenty of hiking and cycling routes, and the town itself is easy to enjoy at a slower pace. If you're looking for a comfortable, authentic base that lets you settle into Monschau rather than just pass through, Chalet Bleibe fits that rhythm beautifully.

PLACES OF INTEREST

Historische Altstadt Monschau (0 km): Right outside the door, Monschau's old town is known for its half-timbered houses, narrow lanes, and riverside views. It's compact, easy to explore on foot, and especially charming during the holiday season.

Rotes Haus (Red House) (0.2 km): The town's most famous landmark, this 18th-century former textile-industrialist residence is now a museum with beautifully preserved interiors and exhibits on Monschau's weaving history.

Senfmühle Monschau (0.3 km): A traditional mustard mill producing regional specialties. Visitors can sample different varieties and learn about the craft behind them.

Monschau Castle (0.5 km): Overlooking the old town, the castle offers panoramic views and hosts cultural events in summer. The walk up is short but steep, and the structure is more atmospheric than fully restored.

Glashütte Monschau (1 km): A glassworks and small museum where visitors can watch glassblowing demonstrations and browse handmade glass items. A modest but interesting stop, especially on rainy days.

Panoramaweg Monschau (1 km): A scenic circular hiking route offering elevated views of the town and surrounding hills. Not difficult, but some sections can be uneven.

Vennbahn Cycle Route (2 km): One of Europe's longest converted railway cycling paths, stretching through Germany, Belgium, and Luxembourg. The Monschau section is gentle and suitable for casual cyclists.

Eifel National Park (5–10 km): A protected natural area offering hiking and cycling trails through forests, hills, and lakes. Ideal for nature lovers looking for quiet routes rather than dramatic alpine scenery.

Hohes Venn – High Fens (10–15 km): A unique raised bog landscape across the Belgian border, known for wooden boardwalk trails and wide-open moorland views. Weather can change quickly, so proper footwear is recommended.

Vogelsang IP (20 km): A former military training site turned educational center and museum within the Eifel National Park. It offers exhibitions, guided tours, and striking views over the Urftsee reservoir.
